MELVARY POLLED SHORTHORN SALE

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1972 — One p.m. Central Standard Time

At Zepick Brothers' Melvary Farm, Near Kipling, Saskatchewan

63 LOTS — 10 BULLS — 53 FEMALES

Including 37 Bred Heifers and 12 Bred Cows

WELCOME TO MELVARY...

Dear Shorthorn Breeders:

The purebred cattle business could not be better than it is right now and the trend to breeding the modern Polled Shorthorn is being pursued with tremendous enthusiasm in a practical way.

Muscling in herd bulls is essential to breed the type of cattle which will have more red meat and less waste for consumer needs. Yet in our search for modernness we must keep in mind not to overshoot the target. Herd sires and brood cows to be able to sire and mother offspring that will breed on must have substance and capacity.

Enough of this so-called waste we wish to eliminate must remain in the proper proportion to leave us with strength and longevity. At Melvary we have strived to produce larger cattle with good gaining ability and less waste, yet leave the kind that will add dollars to the operation of the cow-calf man, the feedlot operator, and supply the butcher with the kind of meat which will be demanded by the consumer for years to come.

We are among the very interested and concerned breeders who have strived to select the proper herd sires and females to produce the right kind of cattle that will breed on for other breeders involved in being way out in front in their efforts toward our modern needs.

We offer in this sale our entire 1971 heifer crop, along with our two-year-old replacement females many of which should be going back into our own herd but are being offered to make this one of the greatest groups of Polled Shorthorns for sale in 1972. We invite your inspection of our cattle and look forward to having you as our guests at open house the evening before the sale.

Cordially,

MELVIN & GARY ZEPICK.

MELVARY LEADER x, at left, was reserve grand champion bull and top-selling Shorthorn at the 1971 Regina Bull Sale, going to Douglas Morris, Saskatoon, Sask., and Wesley Lehmann, Rosthern, Sask., for $2,600. A maternal sister, Melvary White Wendy x, sells as Lot 61.

MELVARY GALAXY 5th x, at right, sold in the 1972 Regina Bull Sale to Edward Kouba, Alpha Shorthorn Farm, Galva, N. D., for $975. A maternal sister, Melvary Coronita x, sells as Lot 59.

MELVARY ASININE x. Bred by Zepick Brothers, this bull is now owned by Hart Farm, Waxahachie, Texas. He was All-American in 1971, having been reserve grand champion at Fort Worth and Baton Rouge; calf champion at the Dixie National; reserve calf champion at the Oklahoma State Fair, the National Western and Tri-State Fair. As a junior yearling, he went on to become grand champion bull at the Pan-Am, Dallas, the Texas State Fair, the Arkansas State Fair, and the Louisiana State Fair; and reserve grand champion bull at the Tennessee State Fair.

Dear Melvin and Gary,

It has been two years now since we purchased the seventeen females and Melvary Asinine x from you. Therefore, it is not speculation when we say they are a tremendous herd within themselves.

Several calves from these females have been sold in Texas and surrounding states, and even more would have been if we had had them to sell.

As for the twice All-American, Melvary Asinine x, we could tell you good things about him all day. However, since there is a possibility that we could be prejudiced, we will simply tell you to look for his first calves on the show circuit this year and let his own show record speak for him as an individual.

Good luck to all of you.

A son was the first Australian bull ever to come to North America, selling to Dr. J. G. Carter, Okotoks, Alta., for the Australian record price of $28,000 Canadian funds. Another son sold at $26,000 in Sydney last year. At 42 months of age, Mandalong Royal Ambassador (P) weighed 2,700 pounds, measured 114 inches from tip of nose to back of rear-quarters, 65 inches from withers to ground, and 90 inches from poll to rump.
